Discover Unisound BW is the first festival accessible to all in Belgium.

Although much is done to support people with reduced mobility these days, too many activities remain inaccessible. Going to a music festival, for example, is quite a challenge.

The organizers decided it was time to put together a quality musical event, accessible to all. The aim, of course, is for people with or without restrictions of movement to enjoy its amazing atmosphere.

This festival for all is a real summer highlight.
