Situated in the former Villa Royale, residence of the second queen of the Belgian Marie Henriette, the Museum of the City of Waters unveils the history of Spa.

Spa Story

This permanent exhibition presents how Spa became the cradle of balneology through archive documents, videos and collections, among which:

- a magnificent collection of "Jolités" or Bois de Spa, featuring pieces from the seventeenth century to the present day
- vintage posters, engravings and various objects evoking the activity of the oldest spa town in Europe.

The Horse Museum

A fantastic insight into Spa's equestrian past through historical objects.

Combined tickets

Visitors can buy combined tickets to see the Musée de la Ville d'Eaux and the The fascinating Laundry museum in Spa for a mere 6€.
