The domain

Maintained with respect for natural and organic balances, the estate benefits from a true microclimate thanks to maximum sunshine and natural protective screens. It has 700 vines of Müller-Thurgau vine, planted in 2000.

Wine

The wine produced is a fruity and mineral fragranced wine. It is labeled "Vin de Pays des Jardins de Wallonie". In order to keep an optimum taste, the wine is not filtered. Its clarification is done naturally in the barrels thanks to the low temperatures of winter. The winemaking is done in an old converted tobacco barn.

The visits

In group and on reservation, you will be able to visit the vineyard and the cellar. The visit, paid, is followed by a tasting of two different wines. The visit lasts about 1h30 but can be adapted according to your interests and your time.
