Travel back to a distant past, to Celtic time. The Musée des Celtes de Libramont will teach you about their daily life, beliefs and society structure through the rich archaeological heritage they left behind: dishes, tools, jewels... Conclude your journey with a didactic walk through the Bonance forest reserve.

Were "our ancestors the Gauls" Barbarians? On the contrary! Archaeological excavations have revealed a fascinating world, reconstituted here.

The museum organises guided tours for visitors (with a particular focus for visually impaired people within groups) and also offers quite special audio guides, designed by children for children (6-12 years old).

A family friendly nature walk

This 3 km, accessible to all, is sure to delight all generations. The path slaloms gently through the Bonance park and its lovely forest, presenting the Celtic origins of the region as well as the local natural resources.
